

Making Your School Greenhouse Work for You! – Round 2

Join us for a deeper dive in greenhouse management strategies designed for educators. This FREE two-hour online class, led by Dr. Jeremy Pickens, will provide an overview of the following topics:

Plant propagation techniques, automated irrigation system management strategies, choosing the right fertilizer, pest management strategies and more!

Tuesday, July 30th
2:00-4:00pm

To register online, please visit the following link or scan the QR code:

<https://www.aces.edu/go/4295>

This online class has been approved for 2 professional development credit hours with the Alabama State Department of Education.

For more information, contact:

Bethany O'Rear

(205) 612-9524

bethany@aces.edu

The Alabama Cooperative Extension System (Alabama A&M University and Auburn University) is an equal opportunity educator, employer, and provider. If you need a reasonable accommodation or language access services, contact the instructor 3 weeks before the class

www.aces.edu